

Spring 2015 newsletter

Welcome to our first quarterly bulletin to mark International Women's Day on 8 March 2015

Read more on each story by clicking on the bold link.

Read our response to the UN Resolution on the Promotion of Sustainable Tourism: we believe this is only possible with gender equality.

We now have four Directors with a wealth of experience in tourism and gender equality, as well as our expansive network of Associates.

One of our Directors, Stroma Cole, was recently given an ATHE award for tourism in globalisation. She has also just received a British Academy grant for a unique research project exploring the gender dimensions of the impact of tourism-related water scarcity in Indonesia.

Another of our Directors, Daniela Moreno Alarcon, is currently undertaking a project in Nicaragua on the importance of the gender dimension in the responsible and sustainable development of tourism.

Equality in Tourism offers a unique service through the wide-ranging experience of its Directors and international network of Associates. Consultancy services include social and strategic needs analyses; gender awareness programmes; feasibility studies; communications development; and gender and human rights impact assessments. We tailor this work to the individual needs of your organisation.

Please click here to contact us to discuss how we can help your organisation.

